

Questions for the Car! – Tuesday

Sometimes you ask a child what did you do today and get “nothing” as an answer. Here at Jr. Safari Camp we pack the camper’s day with fun and educational activities and would like to give you a few questions to help the camper remember.

like

We talked all about the scientific method.

Asking a question, making predictions, performing an experiment, look at the data and make conclusions.

We did an Egg Drop activity to put this into practice.

Ask your Camper – did your egg survive the fall from 2ft? ow about from 10 ft? What would you have done different?

We met 2 types of Marsupials today.

A marsupial is an animal that keeps their babies in a pouch.

Ask your camper – what were the differences between the Sugar Glider and the Opossum?

We made Enrichment for our Capuchin Troop or our pair of Baboons

Ask your camper - What is enrichment?

What did you make for the animals?

Did the animals use it the way you thought they would?

What would you try next time?
